Having considered that several unqualified persons, by taking out stamped certificates to kill game, have, under that pretence, hunted on different grounds, without the permission of the proprietors—The Association, therefore empower William Scott, Procurator-at-law of this county, to prosecute all such persons who have trespassed in time past, or who may do it in time coming.

And whereas an improper use has been made of indulgences given by the Members of this Association to unqualified persons and others, to hunt on their grounds, these are therefore intimating, That all indulgences, whether verbal or in writing, granted previous hereto, are hereby recalled; and that if any person whatever shall presume, in time coming, to hunt on their grounds, without first applying for and obtaining an order in writing from the Proprietor, every person so trespassing will be prosecuted according to law.

As also, the said Association considering, that the stealing of Dogs of sport has been very frequent of late, and that sundry persons are in the practice of shooting, or otherwise destroying Pigeons—it is therefore resolved, That all transgressors in either of these particulars shall likewise be prosecuted with the utmost rigour of law, at the expense of the Association.

Whoever will give such information to the Procurator Fiscal as shall lead to a discovery of offenders in the premises, will receive from him a reward of TWO GUINEAS, upon conviction of each offender; and the informer's name, if required, shall be concealed.

N. B. The sums which have been contributed by those who have or may join in this Association, are not to be considered as an annual assessment; and no new subscription will be required, until the sums subscribed are exhausted on necessary charges attending the prosecution of delinquents, &c. of which an account is to be kept by the Procurator Fiscal, subject to the approbation and control of a Committee of Subscribers.

THE MAGNESIA LOZENGES are a certain remedy for the Heartburn, and all disorders arising from sharp humours investing the Stomach and Bowels: are excellent in removing the effects of indigestion, as Wind, Pilegum, Cholice, Fixed Pains, and uneasiness after eating, particularly vegetables which many people are subject to. They are so powerful a corrector of acridities, as to afford almost instant relief from the painful consequences of drinking sour wine, stale beer, &c. They are agreeable to the taste, and though gently opening (a quality peculiar to these Lozenges) may be taken at any time without inconvenience. The reports these Lozenges have obtained, for near thirty years, among all ranks of people in England, testify their superior excellence; and as they are an improvement of the Magnesia, are applicable in every case where that is deemed necessary.

VIDE, LEGE, & CREDE.
Case of JAMES VAUGHAN, Esq. (late Banker) Park Street, Bristol, who has very laudably given permission to its being made public for the good of the afflicted:

He is 64 years of age, and acknowledges with gratitude that he received infinite benefit from seven bottles of the Cordial Balm of Gilead; having been thereby restored from an asthma, cough, violent wheezing of the lungs, strong hypochondria, lowness of spirits, great relaxation, weakness of body, restless nights, uncomfortable dreams, all which reduced him very much; he is now lusty, strong, and hearty, and enjoys better health than he has experienced for these thirty-five years.

Signed 20th June, 1799. JAMES VAUGHAN.

Extract of a Letter from the Rev. ROWLAND PHILIPS, B. A. Long Ashton, near Bristol, dated June 23, 1799.

"I feel it a duty incumbent on me as a Clergyman, to state, for the good of the afflicted, that I am restored from a great weakness, with a long train of horrid symptoms attendant on a Nervous Complaint of many years standing, by the use of the Cordial Balm of Gilead, though many remedies prescribed by the Faculty, as well as those advertised, were tried in vain. My spouse also derived great benefit therefrom; and several of the first Families in the vicinity of Bristol have declared they owe their recovery of their health solely to the great efficacy of that valuable Restorative. I therefore think it cannot be too generally known."

R O M E.

The following Manifesto, was lately addressed to the Roman Nation, on the approach of the Combined Armies:

Worthy descendants of Romulus, the dawn of peace at length opens upon your horizon. The happy days of Numa Pompilius, of Augustus, and of Trajan, are about to return. Impiety and fanaticism give place to true religion and honour. The mask of wantonness and libertinism is about to fall. The tree of discord is rooted out of your soil; the tri-coloured standard will no longer dishonour the Capitol. Remember that you are Romans, and your hearts will glow with indignation against a race which has constantly been your enemy, which persecuted Rome, both in its infancy and in its state of maturity, and which at all times was averse to its prosperity; which at this juncture has robbed it of its treasures, its monuments, its many rarities, and violated its religion; which has overthrown its good order, and deprived it of that dignity and consequence, which all nations of the universe were wont to ascribe to it. Romans! where are the statues collected with so much labour and fatigue from the most distant regions? Where are your famous pictures, and those celebrated manuscripts which you preferred with so much care from the ravages of time? Where are your vessels of gold and silver, your precious jewels, and rich ornaments? All is become the prey of that French nation which had promised and undertaken to guarantee your properties. Where are the decorations and magnificent attributes of your churches? Where is the Supreme Pontiff, the sacred pledge, whose honourable custody was committed to your charge for the general interest of the Catholic church? All has been barbarously torn from you by those French Commissaries and Generals, who had solemnly contracted with you for the protection of your public worship.

Where is your liberty? that liberty which was deceitfully held out to you as the basis of your Revolution, and the dearest wish of your hearts? The most oppressive tyranny, the most humiliating despotism has fettered you, and still afflicts you. Some vile Frenchmen, without honesty, without birth, without education, have annihilated the Roman name, and with their impure and deceitful breath have profaned the lasting fame of your noble ancestors, Curtius, Horatius, Fabius, Brutus, and Cassius; they have plundered you of your inheritance, your authority and your tranquillity. But, people of Rome, you shall be avenged; the Imperial eagle has again directed its flight, towards the Italian shores; it is guided by the valiant Suvarrow, the hero of Russia, the hero of Italy, the hero, whose name resounds from the Pont Euxine to the Vistula and the Volga, on the banks of the Po, the Adige and the Trebbia, and who is immortalized by the victories he has gained. The united forces of the two empires and the greatest powers in Europe are conducted by the greatest commander, the terror of whose name alarms the enemy. Victory accompanies his standard, and overthrows every bulwark; the humbled Frenchman flies at his approach, and seeks to save himself in the Alps; but there is no retreat nor safety for him; pursued, beaten, discomfited, he abandons Italy, and is defeated and absorbed by all its inhabitants, who found the alarm to destroy and annihilate him.

People of Rome! we likewise ought to follow this laudable example; you have your vengeance to claim, and should participate in the common glory. In the name of General Suvarrow, I invite you to do it; he is persuaded that you will not hesitate to unite yourselves with the victorious armies of the two empires, and doubt not but with that force and energy which has always distinguished your illustrious nation, you will yourselves expel from your city, and the Roman State, the small remainder of Frenchmen who still keep you under subjection, and oppress you; and that you will liberate your families from such unwelcome and dangerous uests.

Let no apprehensions detain you from this resolve.—A total oblivion of what is past, and an absolute pardon for all who may return to their duty, are promised you by the allied Princes, and guaranteed by the General. He cannot suppose you blind enough to be attached to your enemies, and the enemies of Heaven—the foes of all the human race; or that you would wish to retard the general peace of Italy, by abusing the bounty of so many sovereigns. He loves you, and dreads the thought of being obliged, if you continue refractory, to consider you as the enemies of religion and the allied powers; in which case he would be under the painful necessity of fighting and exterminating you with the common enemy.—May God avert such calamity from you, and inspire you for the public good, to act in such a way as to merit his grace, the praises of Suvarrow, and the commendation of Europe.

GEORGE, COUNT OF ZOUCCATO, Lieutenant Colonel in his Imperial Russian Majesty's service, Volunteer in the army of Italy, Knight of the Orders of St. George, St. Vladimir, and the Prussian Order of Merit.

SEPTEMBER 6.

No Hamburg mails are arrived this morning—there are two still due.

Two British carrels arrived at Dover yesterday from Dunkirk, after having carried thither 300 French prisoners from Lyons, but they brought no French papers. The masters were told at Dunkirk of our army having landed in Holland, but they did not hear a syllable respecting the defeat of General Joubert's army, as is reported on the authority of a French Journal of the 27th ult. said to have been received in town on the 31st.

No later accounts than those published in the Gazette have been received from the Continent, and therefore we cannot satisfy the impatience of the public in regard to the further progress of our army in Holland. A fleet was in sight yesterday at Yarmouth, but from its distance it could not be ascertained whether they were Dutch prizes, or transports with the sick and wounded. An hospital has been prepared at Yarmouth for the reception of the latter.

By letters from officers engaged in the affair of Helder point, we learn that no more than three thousand of our troops were engaged, and thus the extraordinary fact has been ascertained, (what we have taken more than a century to discover), that the Texel might at all times be forced, and the Dutch navy be destroyed by a coup de main. Perhaps it may be said, that Helder Point did not make all the defence of which the place was susceptible, but surely after a resistance of 10 hours, and the loss on both sides of 2000 souls, we cannot think so outrageously of human nature, as to believe it a compromise. If, then, Helder be a point so little capable of defence, the fiction of Dutch security is exposed, and they are extinguished as a maritime power. In this point of view, the achievement is of more consequence to Great Britain than the mere numerical force of the ships rescued from the hands of the French. It is not merely an enemy silenced for the moment—it is a rival extinguished for ever. After thus proving the insecurity of their chief port, what cautious Dutchman will retain under any guarantee to embark his capital in a commerce which may be so easily destroyed? Thus we have not only seized on their ships, but made it manifest to them that it is idle to build more.

Some thousand letters were yesterday received for the first time from the Texel. The orders of government have been strictly enforced, that no private communications should be forwarded pending the event of the expedition. No intercourse, in consequence, before this delivery, has taken place between the fleet and the army and this country, excepting merely and literally the official. The letters were detained by regulation of the commander in chief at Ramsgate, till after the publication of the general's and admiral's dispatches. The intercourse will now be open, and we are promised a regular and uninterrupted correspondence for the future.

Our present letters are almost entirely anticipated by the details of the gazettes. They are not even of so recent a date.

Extract of a letter from an officer on board Admiral Mitchell's squadron.

On the 26th inst. we came to an anchor with the transports containing the troops, about four miles from the Helder, under the forts of which the Dutch men of war lay two and two. At two o'clock on Tuesday morning, the debarkation of the troops began to take place; the beach having been first founded by the gunboats, bomb-vessels, &c. which completely drove the scattered Dutch troops from it, and afforded ours an easy landing; after effecting which, the troops immediately formed, and were soon in action. By 11 o'clock in the forenoon, 10,000 of them were landed; but it is supposed that not more than 2 or 3000 were engaged. The action lasted at intervals from seven in the morning till four in the afternoon; at which time the Dutch made off in all directions. General Sir J. M. Pulteney is wounded in the wrist, and Colonel Macdonald's is a flesh wound in the thigh.

Our troops on Tuesday night began to intrench on the hills; and, on the 28th, the Helder fort surrendered, together with the Dutch ships in ordinary, and several old Indiamen. The other ships, five line of battle, two of 54, three frigates, and a sloop, are gone up the Zunder Sea, about twelve miles, and we mean to follow and attack them as soon as the wind permits.

Various are the reports with respect to the killed and wounded among the English; but I am sorry to say that from the obstinate bravery with which the Dutch soldiers fought, our loss has been much greater than was at first apprehended. On the 27th in the evening, part of the second expedition arrived with about 5000 men; but not in time to land. Some were landed on the 28th, and some this day.

AUGUST 30.

We have just come in sight of the Dutch ships which have surrendered. They had requested, by a flag of truce, 10 hours; but Admiral Mitchell answered, that he having a superior fleet to theirs, he would allow them one hour to consider of surrendering, and no longer; but that if the English fleet had been no more than the Dutch, he should immediately have attacked them. We understand that the ships are to be immediately sent to England. The Texel island has surrendered, and two villages; and I hope that all Holland will in a short time be well inclined for the restoration of the Stadtholder.

General Abercromby is raising fortifications on the narrowest part of the peninsula, in order to fortify himself against any attacks that may be made by the troops in Holland, till reinforcements shall arrive.

We have experienced the most tempestuous weather ever since we failed; and it still continues. You shall hear from me whenever any thing new occurs.

CAMP, NEAR HELDER—AUG. 31.

After a very obstinate resistance, the enemy were forced to give way, and to retire to the marshy plain, from whence they soon after retreated in good order to Alkmaar, a town six miles distant from our advanced posts. They had a few cavalry, of which they attempted to avail themselves; but they could not act, and were, after a few fruitless endeavours, obliged to fall back, with some loss.

The whole force of the enemy was not more than 7000 men, among whom there were only a few French officers. Their clothes, arms, and ammunition, were the best I ever saw—better even than our own; and nothing could surpass the adroitness of their riflemen. Our loss, in killed, wounded, and missing, as far as it has yet been ascertained, is upwards of 540 men, among whom are an extraordinary portion of Field Officers, when it is considered, that not above one half of our army was engaged. Not more than 130 of the 29th regiment could be brought into action. This corps gained distinguished credit, and lost in killed and wounded 36 men. The enemy's loss was about the same number. They left 100 men dead on the ground. We are all in high spirits, eager to renew the combat, and shall move forward, as soon as our cavalry are landed.

The remainder of our correspondent's letter relates to the surrender of the fleet, an official account of which event appeared formerly.

The weather was so tempestuous on Friday night, that no boat could live at sea. Admiral Mitchell was obliged to send his officer in a lugger to hoist the Orange Flag on board the Washington. No officers were sent on board the Dutch ships, or taken out of them. The rumours, that several of the Dutch regiments had come into the British, are unfounded.

So late as Saturday at noon, General Abercromby had made no movement out of the Peninsula, but was entrenching himself, and throwing up a chain of redoubts upon its southern extremity, in order to defend his lines against any attack of the enemy, previous to the arrival of the whole of the reinforcements which are destined to act under him.

We are happy to state, that Admiral Lord Duncan is much recovered from his indisposition, though he has not yet been able to leave his ship.

Captain Oswald, who brought the news from Naples, is appointed to the rank of post in the navy; and Lieutenants Clay and Collier, of Lord Duncan and Admiral Mitchell's ships, to the rank of Commanders.

The number of Scotsmen employed in the secret expedition is remarkable; Lord Duncan, Admiral Mitchell, Sir Ralph Abercromby, Sir James Pulteney, General Moore, Lord Huntley, Colonel Hope, Colonel Murray, Colonel Graham, Colonel McDonald, Colonel Garden, Colonel Smollett, and, we believe, Colonel Hay, are all from Caledonia.

Helder Point, the scene of the late engagement, signifies the Point of Heroes, an appellation that will henceforth be admitted to be appropriate.

The Dutch Admiral Story seems to be unfortunate in commanding sailors who will not fight. At Camperdown he was precisely in the same situation as in the Texel; but it must be admitted that he failed off with surprising alacrity on that occasion.

Tuesday morning the King and his attendants walked on the Esplanade at Weymouth till breakfast time.—The Princess Charlotte, after being bathed, took an airing, accompanied by the Countess of Elgin, to the village of Upway.—The King and Princess Sophia rode on horseback on the Downs towards Lulworth.—At twenty minutes after ten, Mr Evans, the messenger, arrived from London with the news from Holland.—The King being out riding, the messenger was ordered to meet his Majesty on the road; and came up with him about seven miles from Weymouth. The Queen and Princesses, in two sociables and four, took an airing on the same road to congratulate his Majesty on the glad tidings. The King walked through the streets of Weymouth, and, with his accustomed affability, acquainted all he knew with the intelligence.

Letters from Shropshire give a very satisfactory account of the harvest in that county. The farmers are now in the midst of it, and if the present weather continues two or three weeks longer, will get the whole of it in very well. It is satisfactory also to learn from the same quarter, that the crops of hops will be much more abundant than was expected.

PORTSMOUTH—September 5.

This morning Vice-Admiral Sir Roger Curtis, in his Majesty's ship Launceston, with the East India, West India, Lisbon, and American outward-bound convoys dropped down to St Helen's, and will fall to-morrow morning if the wind continues, which is now at E. S. E.

The captures made from France, Spain, and Holland, during the war to the present time, consisted of five vessels of from 110 to 120 guns, fourteen of from 80 to 84, forty-one of 74, nine of from 64 to 68, five of from 54 to 56, forty-three of 40 to 44, thirty of 36 to 38, sixteen of 32, nine of 28, twenty-one of 24 to 26, thirty-one of 20 to 22, twenty-five of 18, fifty-one of 14 to 16, thirty-one of 8 to 12, and forty-three of six guns and under—making in the whole seventy-four of the line, ninety-seven frigates, fifty-two ships of 20 to 26 guns, seventy-eight sloops, and seventy-two cutters, &c. to which are to be added six hundred and eighty-five privateers.

The redoubted Dutch Admiral of the Texel tells a very pretty story of the cowardly conduct of the traitor whom he commanded; and certainly no one who recollects the gallant conduct of that Naval Hero, in saving himself and his ships with so much dexterity, on the memorable 11th of October, will dispute his full right to brand as a coward and a traitor any man who refuses to fight, when called upon by his Chief for that purpose. Admiral De Winter could, we believe, afford an ample elucidation of this principle.

The Earl of Clare, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, has been created a British peer, by the title of Baron Fitzgibbon, of Sidbury, in the county of Devon.

Yesterday a variety of rumours prevailed in the city, most of them of very doubtful credit. The chief of these in importance was, that dispatches had been received from the Honourable Thomas Grenville, announcing that his Prussian Majesty, faithful to his engagements of neutrality, had refused to permit the passage of the Russian troops through the territories comprehended within the line of demarcation. This report we cannot state upon any authority, nor do we know from what source it originated.

Yesterday the Duke of York arrived at Walmers castle, and his suite at the three Kings Hotel, Deal, where they wait the arrival of his Majesty's ship Cambrian, the Hon. Capt. Legge, to convey them to Holland. The Cambrian is ordered round from Portsmouth for the above purpose. A good many transports have arrived in the Downs from the river, to carry to Holland the troops now on Barham Downs. The transports which took on board the cavalry yesterday at Ramsgate proceeded immediately to the Downs.

More troops were expected at Deal this day from Barham Downs, and every thing announces that the campaign, opened with so much success, will be prosecuted with the utmost vigour. As the object to be accomplished by it is of the utmost importance, arrangements have been prudently made by ministers to prevent the transmission of all private letters, except at stated intervals, so as to obviate the danger of intelligence being sent, and made public, that might be injurious to the plan of operations.—This, perhaps, may account for the ridiculous fabrications which some of the prints have intruded on their readers. The first set of letters which were brought over in the military bag, appointed for the purpose, were delivered only on Wednesday last.

In Sir Ralph Abercromby's army were two regiments of Highlanders in the proper Highland dress. The Dutch were much astonished at seeing them, and took them for Russians. They expected their surprise at finding there were men in Great Britain who wore what they thought so strange a dress.

The Dey of Algiers is said to have declared war against the Emperor of Germany, and the Algerine corsairs are reported to have already taken two ships under Imperial colours. The Grand Signior, it is said, has sent a firman to the Dey, commanding him to cease all the French in his country to be arrested, and to show favour to the English; but the Dey refused to obey these orders.

The following congratulatory letter has been circulated in general orders throughout the Southern District:—

Head Quarters, Barham Downs, Sept. 1. 1799.
Gen. Sir Charles Grey has the pleasure to congratulate the troops on the happy success of Lieut. Gen. Sir Ralph Abercromby's army, in having made their landing good on Tuesday morning at day-break; and, after a sharp action, which lasted till late in the day, the superior courage of British soldiers prevailed, drove the enemy from their batteries, and took full possession of Helder.

Every preparation is making equal to the ardour that the General is sure prevails in the three brigades upon Barham Downs, to embark in support of their gallant brothers, and to complete the great advantages they have gained.

The General has the farther pleasure to announce, that the two brigades, under the command of Major-General Don, arrived during the attack, to support their gallant comrades.

LOGGES OF FREE MASONS.—By the 39th Geo. III. c. 79, it is directed, that all such Societies or Lodges shall be exempted from the penalties of the act, provided two of the members composing the same shall certify upon oath, before a Justice of the Peace, that such Society or Lodge has, before the passing of the Act, been usually held under the denomination of a Lodge of Free Masons; which certificate, duly attested by the Magistrate before whom the same shall be sworn, shall, within the space of two calendar months, (12th September and not afterwards) be deposited with the Clerk of the Peace. And it is further directed, that this exemption shall not extend to any such Society or Lodge, unless the name or denomination thereof, and the usual place or places, and times of meeting, and the names and descriptions of all and every the members thereof, be registered with the Clerk of the Peace, within two calendar months after the passing of the act. And also on or before the 25th day of March in every succeeding year.

WEST-INDIA FLEET.

By the last Jamaica mail we learn, that the last division of the Jamaica fleet, consisting of 61 vessels, sailed from Port Royal on the 6th of June.

On the 23d of July the fleet was seen from the mast head in the W. S. W. Cape Donna Maria bearing S. S. W.

As the fleet had not through the windward passage on the 23d, their arrival cannot be expected in less than three weeks. It is reported that five of the convoy have been captured and one burnt.

YARMOUTH Sept. 4. 1799.

Lord Duncan and the Russian Admiral arrived here on Monday: his Lordship being unwell prevented his receiving the congratulation of a numerous concourse of people, who were assembled on the beach to testify their joy at the glorious news he had brought from the Texel. Lady Duncan is here, and is going on board the Kent. It is confidently reported here, that most of the people in Holland are ready to receive the Prince of Orange, and most ardently wish his return there.

A most affecting circumstance occurred a few days ago at Hoxton.—A young lady between 15 and 16 years of age, an apprentice to a milliner of that place, having received a reprimand for some misconduct in her business, the impression of the displeasure was so forcible, that she soon after left the house, jumped into the river, and was drowned. After being found, a singular instance of modesty was apparent in her dress; her face was concealed with a handkerchief, and her clothes securely attached to her legs, to prevent their being exposed.

On Friday afternoon at Thos. Willet, Esq. of Little Bulby, Herts, and his lady, were returning from town in a one-horse chaise, they were stopped at the bridge, near the six mile stone, on the Edgware road, by two highwaymen, one of whom pulled a white veil over his face, and with horrid imprecations demanded their money—the wind blowing the veil up, the man appeared to be about 36 years of age, dark complexion, large black whiskers and eye-brow, full face, and Roman nose, &c. Mr Willet had travelled the road for years, and had long made up his mind not to be robbed; but, having no arms in the chaise at this season of the year, he rose with the resolution of a lion, and struck the fellow with vehemence over the eyes, which so stunned and embarrassed him as to render him incapable of firing, although his pistol was then drawn from his pocket for that purpose—he then, with correct presence of mind, whipped his horse, which went off in a gallop, and fortunately escaped these marauders. They went towards London, and we think they must be the same fellows who robbed Mr. Chesterman, of that place, last week. This is the fourth time Mr Willet has been attacked on that road, but he has never yet been robbed.

EDINBURGH—SEPTEMBER 9.

EXPRESS FROM PARIS.

COURIER-OFFICE, Friday, 2 o'clock, p. m.

This moment we have received a Paris Journal of the 2d instant, confirming the defeat of the French in Italy, and the death of General Joubert, by the following letter:

GENOA, 30 THERMIDOR—JULY 17.

The first movements of the Republican army gave reason to hope that victory would this time be faithful to the Republican arms; but whatever may have been the causes which have contributed to the new reverses they experienced on the days of the 28th and 29th (15th and 16th July), we cannot dissemble that such reverses have taken place, but not to that extent to make us despair of the cause of liberty.

We have not yet received the details of this terrible battle.—The loss of the French has been considerable; but the Austro-Russians are reduced to a state of weakness and disorganization which preclude the possibility of their attempting new operations. In the mean time the Republican army, though worried, has refused the same positions it occupied before this affair; positions in which it runs no danger of being attacked, and where it can receive new reinforcements, by numbers of which, as appears by letters from the Riviere, we are assured, they have already been joined.

The unforeseen attack so suddenly made by the enemy; the consternation which it spread through the French army, the unfortunate news of the death of Joubert; killed by a musket shot while observing the motions of the enemy from an eminence; and the defeat of the train of artillery in the centre of the line of battle, which the enemy attacked with a formidable artillery, were the principal causes of the victory of the Austro-Russians.

The news from the Levant of Liguria is consolatory. The Austro-Russians have been repulsed twice at Brano, and pursued for a long space. Two thousand Austrian prisoners have arrived in the environs of St. Jean d'Arena.

PARIS, 16 FRUCTIDOR—SEPT. 2.

We hear from Genoa on the 4th Fructidor (22 August), that the head-quarters are already at the gates of Genoa. The hospitals of Genoa by Nice, and of Nice by Toulon, have been evacuated. A number of individuals are flying towards Nice, perhaps we shall soon repair there ourselves with the ruins of the army.—(Mef. fager, Sept. 2.)

PASSAGE OF THE RHINE BY THE FRENCH.

A letter from Mannheim, of the 26th of August says, that the Republicans have passed the Rhine at two points, Oppenheim and the fort of Mannheim. They expect to be with the enemy on the 27th of August, and will march without obstacle to Helbow, in Subbia, and the Upper Mein, in Franconia. Their Electoral and Pontifical Highnesses of Mentz and Bamberg, are already preparing to go.

The defeat of Joubert at Novi was on the 15th and 16th ult.

Great preparations are making to resist the invasion of Holland.

A letter from Basse, of the 26th of August, takes notice of some severe battle before that period, and says, that the Austrian positions on the Aar were to be attacked on the 25th.

The following article is all that is said in regard to the landing of the British troops in Holland. Our readers will thereby see the degree of credit that is due to the anonymous paragraphs of the French papers:—"The injustice and persecution with which the Republicans are oppressed, do not alter in their hearts sentiments of generous clemency, nor the sacred love of their country. As soon as the latter is in danger, they devote themselves to it, hasten to arms, and employ their virtues only to put their oppressors to the blush, by saving them along with them. The English have just effected a landing of 20,000 men at the Helder, which, though unexpected, was not attended with success.—The Patriots flew to arms, which they had been deprived of by the late re-action. The French and Batavians united attacked the English with the most heroic intrepidity. They fought with great fury for three days successively, viz. the 7th, 8th, and 9th, of this month (24th, 25th, and 26th of August.) Five thousand British were made to bite the dust, and 600 were taken prisoners. They were still engaged on the departure of the courier who brought this intelligence to Paris."—Journal des Hommes Libres, 16 Fructidor, Sep. 2.

HAGUE—August 25.

The present President of the Directory is the Anglo-maniac, Ermerins, who for a long time has been strongly suspected of holding a secret correspondence with the Cabinet of St. James's.

In the sitting of the First Chamber, on the 2d of this month, four petitions were received, signed by many of the Republicans at Amsterdam, containing complaints respecting the bad organization of the Batavian national guard, even at a moment when the Ex-Stadtholder dares to circulate a proclamation which announces his speedy return and the re-establishment of the ancient form of Government, as also respecting a notification made by their municipality to the patriots, who since the Revolution of 1795 have been traipsed to the use of arms, and who have always testified their zeal and readiness to defend their country and liberty, in which they are required to deliver up their arms.

The petitioners observe, that the new national guard will be much inferior in number to the old one; and that it will, in a great measure, be composed of undisciplined citizens. They then express their indignation, that the ancient national guard was long suffered to fall into a state of disorganization before any attempts were made to arm or put in a state of activity the new. They conclude with requesting that the arms might be re-returned to the patriots, in order that their country may in this moment of danger repose its defence on its most zealous citizens.—Referred to the Directory.

Several private letters from Dover say, that the prisoners returned in the cartel were informed at Calais, that a telegraph dispatch had been received there of the English having been defeated on their way to Amsterdam on Tuesday last, with great loss. We forbear from stating the number, as it is no doubt, exaggerated.—Courier.

The prisoners come over in the above cartel say, that intelligence had been conveyed to Dunkirk by the telegraph, of the English army having been defeated at Amsterdam, with the loss of 1500 killed. They further add, that there were public rejoicings in France on account of this event when they left Gravelines.—Sun.

We have only to say, that we place no credit in this French account. Had any event of importance occurred to Sir Ralph Abercromby previous to Tuesday last, we must have known it from Holland, as the wind has ever since then been perfectly fair.—Ibid.

The affair is stated to have taken place at or in the neighbourhood of Amsterdam, but as it appears that General Abercromby was resolved not to move from his strong position in the peninsula of North Holland, until he received a reinforcement, we are inclined to think that the above intelligence is only a distorted account of the affair, which took place on the first landing of the British army at the Helder Point. It is not improbable, however, that Admiral Mitchell, after securing the Dutch fleet, as he was then entire master of the Zuyder Zee, may have made some attempt on Amsterdam, by sea, to try the temper of the inhabitants, which may have miscarried.

This, however, is mere conjecture, as we have no means at present of giving any decisive opinion in regard to the truth of the intelligence said to have been brought to Dunkirk by the telegraph, as above stated. Whatever may be the situation of the British army in Holland, it is certain that every exertion is making to second the efforts which have been already made by our gallant countrymen.

Colonel Smollett of the Guards, who fell in the battle which succeeded the landing of the 27th ult. at the Helder Point, was killed very close to Sir Ralph Abercromby.

We are favoured with the following extract of a letter from an officer of the 85th regiment, at present with Sir RALPH ABERCROMBY'S army:

DEAR SIR, August 31.
Before this reaches you, you will hear that Sir RALPH ABERCROMBY'S army have not only made their landing good on the peninsula leading from the Texel to Amsterdam, but have established themselves after a severe engagement, which commenced at 4 o'clock in the morning, and did not terminate till after the same hour in the evening. The third, or Gen. COOTE'S brigade, both commenced and concluded the action; it consists of the 2d, 27th, 29th, 69th, and 85th regiments, the 23d and 53d were joined to it before landing, and it was then called Sir JAMES PULTENEY'S army of observation. These regiments, and the grenadiers of the Guards, who came up as the enemy retreated, were the only regiments engaged; they have received the GENERAL'S particular thanks for their gallantry and perseverance. The enemy fought with wonderful obstinacy, disputing every inch of ground, until they found us determined to use the bayonet. I am happy to tell you, that the 85th were not backward in contributing to the success of the day; never did men enter the field with more eagerness, which they held up until the enemy retreated. We have ever since been in the out posts and lain on our arms every night without a grudge. At one time during the action, Maj. AINSIE was sent to Sir RALPH ABERCROMBY to inform him that the enemy's cavalry were making a disposition to charge us; he immediately came up in person, and stood with as much coolness as if he had been viewing the top of the Ochiel hills, at a moment when both sides were most eager in disputing a position which gave thorough command of a large district of country full of live stock and forage; he recommended the wounded of the enemy to Lieut. Col. Koss, who commanded the 85th, and on his assuring him that every comfort and possible care our situation could admit of, would be administered to them; Sir RALPH retired with evident marks of satisfaction.—This instance of humanity, strongly marks the many noble virtues that have on all occasions distinguished this excellent man.

The whole fleet in the Texel have surrendered to Admiral MITCHELL, and we are in possession of it and the fortifications, without firing a shot at either.

On Saturday, the Magistrates sentenced to Bridewell, JOHN DRUMMOND, a carter's servant at Colt Bridge, for riotous and indecent behaviour on the High Street during the illumination on the preceding evening, a punishment, which, from the evidence, he well merited, and will, it is hoped, have the effect to put a stop to a practice now so prevalent and disgraceful on nights of general rejoicing.

From Stranraer we are informed, that the volunteers there had a field day, on receipt of the important news from Sir RALPH ABERCROMBY and Admiral MITCHELL, and great rejoicings took place.

Barley harvest is begun in the neighbourhood of Gt.angemouth. A large field of oats was cut on Friday, the property of Captain SANDS at Polmont.

Last week was relieved by the Mayor of Bath, SARAH PENELOPE STANLEY, as a discharged soldier from the Ayrshire fencible cavalry, who, on receiving a kick from her horse, discovered her sex.

Monday the Berwickshire fencible cavalry marched into Dublin to do garrison duty with the 24th light dragoons.

Near Tullow, in the county Carlow, the house of a yeoman was surrounded on Friday night, by a multitude armed with pikes, who, after an ineffectual resistance on his part, dragged him out and murdered him at his own door in a most savage manner.

The body of a Highland soldier, pierced by several wounds, was found near Queen's bridge on Tuesday last.

KIRKWALE, Aug. 26. 1799.

MR NEWBOUND, Comedian, takes this opportunity of expressing his gratitude for the very flattering reception he and his Company have recently met with in an excursion to Orkney, to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Kirkwall; for their liberal patronage and encouragement, he can only offer the warmest effusions of a grateful heart.

He begs leave to assure them, and the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Islands in general, that the marks of approbation with which they honoured his feeble attempts to please them, have left an indelible impression on his mind; and if at any future period it should be his fortune to revisit Orkney, it will be his utmost pride to merit a continuance of those favours he has so liberally experienced.

TWENTY THOUSAND VIRGINIA BARREL STAVES of excellent quality & in such Lots as purchasers may incline.

Edin. 9th Sept. 1799.

THE GENUINE DISTINGUISHED FROM COUNTERFEITS

By the King's Patent.

MR R. JOHNSTON, Apothecary, No. 15, Creek Street, Soho, aware of the depredations made on every Public Medicine of established repute and extensive sale, respectfully informs the Nobility, Gentry, and Public, he has obtained the King's Patent for his Invention, not to be recommended but to distinct genuine WHITEHEAD'S ESSENCE OF MUSTARD from spurious imitations.

Five years have now elapsed since Mr. Johnston first made known to the world this very extraordinary Medicine. During this short period its efficacy has been so clearly demonstrated that its sale has infinitely exceeded any former example. Comparatively, there are few families which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects; and with heartfelt satisfaction he has the happiness to declare WHITEHEAD'S ESSENCE OF MUSTARD has cured more persons afflicted with Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies, than all the medicines ever before made public. It has obtained the approbation of many eminent men of the Faculty, and honoured with the unqualified support and recommendation of the first families in the Kingdom.

As the bottles, boxes, labels, and bills of direction of this original medicine are closely copied, and the words "By Royal Authority," artfully substituted for the words "By the King's Patent," it may elude common observation: Mr. Johnston therefore recommends the afflicted to be particular in the purchase.

Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, is prepared and sold, in Pills and in a fluid state, at 2s. 9d. each box or bottle, by the Inventor, R. Johnston, apothecary and chemist, No. 15, Green Street, Soho, London. It is distinguished from counterfeits "By the King's Patent," and the signature "R. Johnston," in his own hand-writing, on each label; sold also by his appointment, by ANDREW SMITH, No. 38, North Bridge, Husband, Elder, and Co. R. Scott, apothecary, Wm. Rieburn, and T. Spence, Edinburgh; Phosson, Berwick; Allan, Dundee; Inglis and Dixon, Dumfries; McIntosh & Co. Inverness; Craigie, Montrose; Cave, Banff; Mitchell, Aberdeen; Mearns and McDonald, Glasgow.

CHIEFLAINS.

N. B. The Fluid Essence immediately allays their tormenting itching, and will assuredly prevent them from breaking, every when turned quite black; and if used according to the directions will absolutely cure them by three or four applications.

TO BE SOLD.

Within the house of John McGrew, vintner in Glenelg, upon Monday the 30th September current, at 12 o'clock noon.

THE BENEFIT OF THE LEASE OF PART OF MEIKLE BALLOCHART AND AUCHINFEAD, lying in the parish of Winton, and adjacent to the village of Glenelg, in the county of Winton, upon the great road from Carlisle to Port Patrick, with ten miles of the town of Stranraer; and of which tract sixty-one years are to run after Whitsunday 1800, either in one or more Lots, and either for a price to be paid at a convenient term, or partly for a price, and partly for an advanced rent.

The land measures in whole 257 Acres, almost all arable, and of an excellent soil. They are inclosed and subdivided, and within a short distance of a good shipping port.

The Farm of BANKFIELD, in particular, which is beautifully situated, and separated from the rest of the lands, contains 141 Acres of very fine land, either all arable or rich meadow, with a south exposure; and, being in general dry and easily wrought, is well adapted to turnip husbandry: On Bankfield there is a good dwelling-house, consisting of two storeys, with suitable offices, all covered with slates, and may be disposed upon by itself; and in that case the remainder will be disposed of in the following lots:

Lot I.—The North Field, South and North

Stanevald Hill, Meadow and Mill Park, near Loch Arin

and South Calf Ward, measuring about 63

Lot II.—Gray's Hill, about 44

Or these two in one

Lot III.—Chapel Hill, rather more than 9

SALE OF LANDS.
In the vicinity of Melrose, and county of Roxburgh.
To be sold, and entered to either at Martimas or Whitesunday first.
FIFTY-TWO ACRES OF GOOD LAND, to the westward of Melrose, within five minutes walk of the beautiful and celebrated Abbey of that name, well inclosed with thriving ditch and hedge, and lying contiguous. As these lands are situated upon the banks of the Tweed, with which they are bounded on the north, it is perhaps unnecessary to mention, that there are upon them a variety of delightful situations for building; and should a purchaser prefer a house already erected, he can be handsomely accommodated, there being at present in the market a House, Garden, and Offices, with a Park of about five acres, the property of the late Mr Baxter, almost adjoining the subjects now exposed.
For particulars apply to Charles Erskine, writer in Melrose.

LAND FOR SALE IN STIRLINGSHIRE.
THE LANDS AND ESTATE OF STEWARTHALL, lying in the parish of St Ninian's, and shire of Stirling. It consists of 270 acres, English measure, and of a rich clay soil, beautifully situated within a mile and a half of the town of Stirling, surrounded by a branch of the river Forth, in which the proprietor has a right of Salmon fishing; lime and coal can be brought to the estate in boats. There is a convenient mansion-house and offices on the estate, a Garden, and Orchard with a variety of fruit trees, and a considerable quantity of old planting. About one hundred and fifty-seven acres of the estate will be out of lease next year. A great part of the price may remain with the purchaser for a length of time, on paying the legal interest.
For particulars apply to David Stewart, W. S. Edinburgh, who will show a plan of the estate; or to James Crystal, writer, Stirling.

SALE OF LANDS IN EAST LOTHIAN.
To be sold by private bargain.
THE very valuable Lands and Estates of FANTASIE,
HOUSTON, HOUSTON-MILN, LINTON, LINTON-MILN, EAST FORTUNE, MYRESIDE, and GOOD-FELLOWS LAND, lying in the county of Haddington, and together in one lot; or, as several applications have been made for a division of the estates into lots, the proprietor will now treat for a sale thereof, in the following lots, viz.
Lot I. Comprehending the Lands and Estate of Fantasie, lying in the parish of Prestonpaul, on the south side of the river Tyne, and the Lands lying between the river and the estate of Simonton, all as at present in the occupation of Mr George Rennie, with the Waulkmuln of Houston, possessed by Andrew Melkie, containing 352 A. 1. 9. 7. of very rich land, together with the Salmon Fishings belonging to said lands.
Lot II. The Lands of Linton, with the Miln of Linton, at present under lease to Mr Rennie, consisting of 121 acres and 33 fells, with the fees of Linton and Common belonging thereto, all lying on the north side of the river Tyne, and within the parish of Prestonpaul.
Lot III. The Lands and Estate of East Fortune, Myreside, and Goodfellow's Lands, lying in the parish of Artholstonford, and consisting of 675 acres, as at present possessed by John and James Howden.
These Lands are delightfully situated in the richest and most beautiful part of East Lothian, and are in the highest state of cultivation. They lie about twenty miles from Edinburgh, and about five miles from Dunbar and Haddington.
The river Tyne divides lots first and second, on each of which there is a Mill, and a command of water, with an eligible situation for carrying on an extensive Manufactory, and the high road from Edinburgh to London intersects the property.
On Lot first there is a valuable Limestone Quarry, wrought by the tenant, affording an abundant supply of lime, not only for his own farm, but also for sale, and which the proprietor has also an unlimited power to work for his own account, on paying surface damages.
The greater part of the Village of Linton and a Distillery are situated on Lot second, and the proprietor, besides the 121 acres before mentioned, has right to a Common in the neighbourhood, containing 60 acres of very improvable land, subject to certain servitudes of pasturage.
The tack duty of the above lands, which is at present only from 900l. to 1000l. consists chiefly of wheat, barley, and oats, payable either in kind, or in the option of the proprietor, at the rate of the highest fairs for the county of Haddington, but as the subsisting leases were agreed on about forty years ago, and for grasslands paid by the tenants, the present rent is no rule by which to estimate their value, as they would yield at least three times the present rent on the expiry of the leases.
On each of the Lots there are substantial Dwelling Houses and Farm Steadings, which belong to the proprietor, and there are several beautiful and most eligible situations for a Mansion.
It is supposed that there is Coal on each of the Lots, but particularly on Lot third, and were coal to be wrought on this estate, it would yield a very great rent to the proprietor.
The Lands hold of the Crown, and stand valued in the cess books at 2196l. 18s. 4d. Scots; affording five freehold qualifications within the county of Haddington.
The title deeds, rentals, and plans of the estates, may be seen in the hands of James and Alexander Fraser, writers, to the signet; and any person desirous of purchasing by private bargain, may transmit their offers to Alexander Shand, or Alexander Crombie, advocates in Aberdeen.

JUDICIAL SALE OF LANDS IN THE SHIRE OF WIGTON.

sion, on Wednesday the 13th of December 1799, betwixt the hours of four and six afternoon, in whole or in parcels,
ALL and Whole the LANDS and ESTATE of AIRIES, consisting of the Forty-Shilling Land of Airies, and Forty Shilling Land of Knockbrake, with the teinds and pertinent, and Part of the Lands of Knockmym, all lying in the parish of Kirkcubright, and shire of Wigton.
The free rental of the lands, after paying all public burdens and feu-duties, is 492l. 16s. 1d. Sterling, and the upset price is 12,470l. 2s. 1d. Sterling, being only twenty-five years purchase, and all the lands are low rented.
There is an heritable right to the teinds, which are also valued.
The lands hold feu of the Earl of Galloway, for payment of a feu-duty of 2l. yearly. They are remarkably well inclosed with stone fences.
The title-deeds of the estate, which are clear, and the articles of roup, are to be seen in the office of Mr Murray, deputy clerk of Session, and in the hands of Archibald Tod, W. S. to whom application may be made for further particulars.
Mr William Ross, Stranraer, factor upon the estate, will show the lands.

SALE OF LANDS IN FIFE.
To be sold by public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 11th December, 1799, at two o'clock afternoon.
THE LANDS AND ESTATES of Berry-hole, Lunquhat, Wester Lumbeany, Lochyheads, Mairland, and others, with the teinds and pertinents of the same, all lying in the parishes of Abdie, Colliestie, Auchermuchty, and Newburgh, and as presently possessed by the following tenants, viz. Berryhole, by John Finlayson; Wester Lumbeany, by Peter Arnot; Lunquhat and Lochyheads by Robert Arnot; and Mairland,
by Andrew Young.
The farm of Lunquhat Mains, will be out of lease at Mar-tinas next, when a purchaser may enter to the possession thereof. It contains 200 acres, and is contiguous to the farm of Lochyheads.
The whole of the above lands contain near 900 Scots acres, and the present rent thereof is only about 753l. 8s. Sterling; but as all the lands are capable of great improvement, a considerable rise of rent may be expected at the expiry of the leases.
The whole of the lands hold of the Crown, and afford several freehold Qualifications in the county of Fife.
There are some old trees on part of the lands, and there are several excellent situations for houses. The lands will be sold either altogether or in such lots as may be most agreeable to purchasers.
The writings and conditions of sale, with rentals, and measurements of the lands, are in the hands of Mr James Walker, W. S. to whom any person wanting further information may apply.

By adjournment.
SALE OF LANDS IN THE COUNTY OF DUMFRIES.
On the 19th day of September 1799, between the hours of one and three afternoon, there will be exposed to sale, by public

The extent of these lands is about 262 acres, and they are possessed by Robert Jardine, smith.

but on the expiry of the present leases they will rise nearly double. One of the principal farms is presently let on a lease of two lives, and as both the tenants are upwards of 70 years of age, access will be had to it in all probability within a few years, and double rent has already been offered for that possession.
The lands are well known to be of a rich fertile quality, and capable of producing every kind of grain. There is a young thriving Plantation on the property, upon which no value is put, and it has a right in common to some extensive muirs, which on a division might be planted or turned into pasture,
with much advantage to the proprietor.
The public burdens affecting this property are comparatively small, and as the teinds are valued and the stipend of the parish lately augmented, any future augmentation will affect the proprietor of Geddes in a trifling degree.
The Lands hold of the Crown, and entitle the proprietor to vote for a member of Parliament to the county of Nairn.
The LANDS OF BROADLEY, HOWFORD, & TOMIN-
DOUL, with the Miln thereof commonly called BROADLEY MILN, with an eighth part of the Griesoph Lands of the burgh of Nairn, together with the Crofts called SMITH'S CROFTS. These Lands also lie on the banks of the river Nairn, in the vicinity of the burgh of Nairn, and parish and county thereof. They are of a fertile kindly quality; and as the rent has not been raised these many years, and as manure of all kinds can be had upon easy terms from Nairn, a considerable rise of rent may be reasonably expected. The present rent is about 80l. Sterling. The proprietor has right to the teinds, and the same have been valued. The whole of these lands hold feu of the town of Nairn for payment of 3l. 4s. 8d. Sterling of feu duty.
The LANDS OF FLEMINGTON, lying within the parish of Petty, and county of Inverness. This property is of a very considerable extent, and of a most improvable quality, having the command of inexhaustible mosses within itself, and there have lately been discovered some beds of marble.
It is situated in the near vicinity of the Garrison of Fort George, which always affords a ready and good market for the produce of the estate. The present rental is upwards of 320l.
Sterling; but from the rapid progress of improvements in that part of the country, and the natural advantages which the Lands of Flemington possess, a very great additional rent may be looked for on the expiry of the present leases, all of which have only a few years to run. These lands hold of the Earl of Moray for payment of a yearly feu duty of 20l. Scots.
The proprietor has right to the teinds, and the same were valued some time ago.
The DONATION, PRESENTATION, and RIGHT
PATRONAGE of the parish of Moy, lying within the Presbytery and County of Inverness. And also, an ALTERNATE Right of Presentation to the Parish of Croy, lying in the Presbytery and County of Nairn.
All these lands and patronages will be disposed of in one lot, or, if more agreeable to intending purchasers, in two or more as wished for.
The titles to these different properties are clear, and together with plans of the estates may be seen in the hands of Archibald Dunbar, W. S. who will also inform as to other particulars.

To be sold by public voluntary roup, (if not previously disposed of by private bargain), within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse in Edinburgh, upon Tuesday the 17th day of December next, betwixt the hours of two and three in the afternoon,
THE LANDS AND ESTATE OF KIRKMICHAEL, with the Village thereof, and certain other Lands and Superiorities within the parish of Kirkmichael, and county of Perth, belonging to William Farquharson, Esq. of Monaltrie.
These lands and superiorities afford a Freehold Qualification in the county of Perth. They are of considerable extent, and capable of great improvement. The rental is about 300l. Sterling per annum, and the teinds are valued and exhausted.
For further particulars application may be made to the proprietor at Balmoral, by Kincardine-Oniel, or to Charles Mackinintosh, W. S. who will show the progress of writs, rental, and articles of roup, &c.—Offers for a sale by private bargain will be received by the proprietor, or the said Charles Mackintosh, before the day of roup.
N. B.—The greatest part of the price may, (if agreeable to the purchaser,) remain in his hands for some years.

LANDS IN FIFE.
To be sold by public roup, within John's Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 2d day of October next, at two o'clock afternoon.
THE LANDS OF LOCHTON, lying in the parish of Kings-barns.
This property is beautifully situated about a mile north from Crail, upon the post road to St. Andrew's, and commands a fine prospect of the Frith, and neighbouring country.
It consists of about 190 acres, of which 60 acres are laid out in very thriving plantations, chiefly hard wood. The remainder is inclosed and subdivided, and possesses excellent situations for a mansion-house, with a view to which the inclosing and plantations have been formed.
Being in the natural occupation of the proprietor, the purchaser will get possession at or before Martimas. Lime to the amount of 5000. Sterling has been laid upon the lands, in the course of the last six years; and there is at present a considerable field in summer fallow, proposed to be sown into wheat, there being plenty of manure upon the ground.
These lands hold of a subject superior; but a freehold qualification in the county will be exposed along with them, if desired.
The Crop and Stocking on said Lands, consisting of wheat, barley, oats, beans, and hay, with draught horses, and some excellent young cattle, will be sold by public roup. The day of sale to be afterwards advertised.
Mr Cowan, at Kippo, or the Overseer, at Lochton, will show the Lands; and for particulars apply to John Moir, writ-ter to the signet, Edinburgh.

FARMS IN STRATHFARN.
To be let for such a number of years, and either together or separately, as may be agreed upon,
THE FOLLOWING FARMS, in the parish of Dron, in Perthshire:—
The FARM OF THE MAINS OF BALMANN, consisting of about 348 acres.
The FARM OF EAST DRON, consisting of about 200 acres.—And
The FARM OF LITTLE FILDIE, consisting of about 136 acres.—All Scots measure, and lying contiguous.
Above the one half of these farms is of the richest arable ground, and the pasture grounds are at least equal to any in that part of the country.
They lie within two miles of the Bridge of Earn, where there is abundance of lime and coal to be procured by water carriage; and within four or five miles of Perth, from whence they can be supplied with dung, and which, as well as the water carriage of the Earn, also yields a ready market for the disposal of the produce.
All these farms to be entered to at the term of Martimas 1799.
For further particulars application may be made to the proprietor at Invermay, by Perth; to Mr John Davidson, writer in Ochterarder; or Mr John Murray, at Kirklandhill, by Dunbar; or James Home, clerk to the signet, Merchant Street, Edinburgh; betwixt and the 24th of October next; and the persons preferred will receive intimation as soon after that date as possible.
